Situation

Appley Court Farm is situated in a rural, yet accessible, location within the popular hamlet of Appley, with the Globe Inn Public House and primary school. Wellington is within 5 miles and offers a good range of day to day facilities. The county town of Taunton and the cathedral city of Exeter are both within an easy drive and offer a greater range of shops, amenities, sixth form Colleges and Exeter University. Communication links are fantastic in the area, with the M5 motorway easily accessible at junctions 26 and 27 and mainline rail stations at Tiverton Parkway and Taunton having regular services to London Paddington.

Description

Believed to date from the 17th century, Appley Court Farm comprises a Grade II listed Somerset longhouse and an attached converted former cider house, providing an extensive and attractive family home. The former cider house is currently incorporated as part of the main accommodation, although it easily lends itself to be a self-contained two bedroom annexe. The property offers a wealth of character, including large inglenook fireplaces, exposed ceiling timbers and also original plank and muntin screen with further exposed wall timbers. The farmhouse kitchen has been beautifully appointed with hardwood work surfaces, antique pine cupboards and drawers and an inglenook fireplace with inset four oven Aga.

Outside are attractive gardens to the front and to the rear a large yard area with useful outbuildings, including former wagon barn and a substantial and versatile modern agricultural building. The entire land extends to approximately 8 acres and lies mainly to the east of the property where there can also be found a lunging pen and paddock. (Additional 39.5 acres available by separate negotiations).
