GENERAL

A charming period farmhouse in an idyllic country setting with grounds and paddocks extending to approximately 5 acres. Breach Farm is a superb country property which has been improved by the present owners with works including an upgraded heating system together with a re-fitted family shower room, some new Heritage flush woodgrain double-glazed windows and downstairs cloakroom. There is still scope for further modernisation and potential for further development, subject to the usual consents. The house is extremely private, set well back from the road and is surrounded by beautiful mature gardens.

The accommodation briefly comprises on the ground floor, a sensational garden room, three further receptions and kitchen. On the first floor there are five bedrooms and a family bathroom.

The grassland is divided into four paddocks and it should be noted that there are no public footpaths running through the land. To the South of the house, in one of the paddocks, there is an orchard. The present owners have made a significant investment in the land. They have built a stable yard and erected a considerable amount of post and horse safe netting. They have also created an exercise tracking system around two of the paddocks.
