From here there is access to a practical boot room, as well as steps leading down to additional storage, a covered entertaining area featuring a pizza oven, and onward access to the vegetable gardens and swimming pool area.

OUTSIDE

The house is approached from the village road via a pillared entrance with electrically operated wrought iron gates opening onto a gravel driveway. Bordered by estate fencing, the drive passes the cottages before continuing to the rear and side of the house, where it opens into a large gravelled parking and turning area adjacent to the entrance porch. From the kitchen/family room, large sliding oak doors open onto an impressive terrace providing shelter and seclusion as well as offering beautiful views. Beyond this is the above ground swimming pool and courtyard.

A separate driveway leads to the stable yard, comprising an impressive stable block arranged around a brick-paved courtyard. The range includes five loose boxes together with a tack room, feed store and hay barn. Adjacent to the stables is a 20m x 40m menage.

Close to the house is a former threshing barn with an adjoining store and lean-to open-fronted shed which has planning permission for conversion to provide garaging.

The gardens and grounds are a particular feature of the property. Areas of lawn extend to the rear of the house and lead to an orchard, while a productive walled garden incorporates raised vegetable beds, a fruit cage and greenhouse.

THE LAND

The land is divided into well maintained enclosures of sloping pasture with small areas of newly planted woodland and includes a large field shelter. The whole estate extends to approximately 36 acres, bordered by established hedging, and native trees - see land plan, all three lots shown are included in the asking price.

With its idyllic setting, rich history, and a wealth of possibilities, Tilbury Farm is an extraordinary opportunity to create a bespoke country retreat in one of Somerset's most sought-after locations.
